96 Become New Alumni In Commencement June 8

Ninety-six new alumni received Bachelors' degrees Sunday, June 8, in St. Joseph's 63rd annual Commencement Exercises in the College fieldhouse.

The Most Rev. John J. Carberry, Bishop of the Diocese of Lafayette and the commencement speaker, received the Honorary Doctor of Laws degree and Mr. Paul C. Tonner, professor of music at St. Joseph's since 1918, was awarded the Honorary Doctor of Letters degree.

The day began with the Baccalaureate Mass, celebrated by the Very Rev. Raphael H. Gross, College president, at 10:30 a. m. in the chapel. Dinner was served following the Mass to the 96 graduates and some 300 guests in the cafeteria.

The academic procession began at 1:45 p. m. from the fieldhouse, with the Commencement Exercises beginning at 2. Father Gross delivered an introductory address followed by the presentation of degrees by Fr. Edward A. Maziarz, academic dean. James A. O'Brien, an English major from Cincinnati, Ohio, gave the valedictory address.

A faculty reception for the graduates and their parents and friends in Raleigh hall followed the Commencement Exercises.

Fourteen of the 96 seniors graduated with honors, including O'Brien and John R. Burke, an accounting major from Evansville, Ind., Summa Cum Laude.

The new alumni are:

Tornadoes Arrive After Grads, Guests Leave; Campus Damaged, Rensselaer Buildings Razed

Two tornadoes ripped through St. Joseph's College and Rensselaer Sunday evening, June 8, causing an estimated $25,000 damage to college buildings and wrecking some 75 trees on the college property.

The first tornado struck about 5:45 p. m. following intermittent rains which dampened part of the graduation ceremonies, and the second hit about 9 p. m. Most of the damage was attributed to the second, which crushed several buildings on Highway 53 on the north end of Rensselaer, including the old Coca-Cola bottling works and the Curtin Motor sales building.

Only one person was reported injured in the area—a youth who was standing in Neville's Texaco station on Highway 53 just north of the College. He was splattered with glass when the twister smashed the office windows and sucked out almost all the contents inside the building.

Water Tower Hit

Although reports conflict as to which tornado did exactly what damage to the College, the top of the water tower was torn off and sent crashing through the roof of the recently vacated Sisters' convent; three of the familiar 70-foot trees between the Health center and the Administration building were ripped up by the roots, though none of them fell on buildings; a dip was put in a section of the roof on the Administration building, looking as if the tip of the funnel had bounced off there; the west wall of the fieldhouse was moved about an inch and part of the roof stripped; and the press box, newly remodeled, was hurled onto the football field.

It was noted with curiosity the next morning that although at least one of the twisters got into the quadrangle behind the Administration building, not one window in any of the surrounding buildings was broken. This, plus the nature of surrounding damage, fed fuel to the theory that the funnels had not actually touched ground in this area.

Other damage included the loosening of the stone cross above the main entrance to the Chapel; broken windows in Science, Halas and Gallagher halls; and the wrecking of the tool shed near the dairy barn. This damage amounted to some $1300. Damage to the water tower was estimated at $3400; to the Administration building and convent roofs, $1000; the fieldhouse wall, which will have to be rebuilt, $13,000 and the roof, $1900; and the press box and football stands, $1000. All except the extensive tree damage was covered by insurance.

Disaster Area

The twisters caused untold misery in Rensselaer. In addition to the smashed buildings, hundreds of trees were uprooted and many landed on homes. The tornadoes, however, reportedly did not score a direct hit on any residences.

The tornadoes were followed up by vicious lightning and thunder storms and almost 10 inches of rain in five days, causing the Iroquois river to reach its highest crest in history as it flooded its banks and spilled into neighboring streets, homes and buildings and threatened its bridges. Residential sections throughout the city were

Fr. Maloney Named Louisville's 'Top Man' for Service to Youth

The Optimist club of Louisville, Ky. has conferred its annual "Man of the Year" award on Fr. James C. Maloney, '31, founder and director of Louisville's Boys Haven.

Every year since World War II the club has been giving the award "for outstanding service to the youth of Kentucky." Father Maloney received this year's bronze and dark-wood plaque at a luncheon May 6 in the Sheraton-Seelbach hotel.

Father Maloney, a native of Louisville, is a graduate of both St. Joseph's and St. Meinrad Seminary. He was ordained in March, 1937, in Rome after his graduation from the North American College there.

Founded Boys Haven

For the next three years he was assistant pastor at St. Elizabeth Church in Louisville. From 1940 to 1950 he was chaplain at Ormsby Village, and in 1950 he founded Boys Haven.

Among the organizations in which Father Maloney has served are the interfaith committee of the Community Chest, The Jefferson County Juvenile Court Advisory committee, the Kentucky Children's Home Advisory board, club's Sheraton-Seelbach Hotel luncheon.

Father Maloney was chaplain at Ormsby Village from 1940 to 1950, during which he conceived the idea of a home for neglected and homeless boys as a memorial to his father, David J. Maloney.

Father Maloney's service at Ormsby Village gave Bruce Dudley, who presented a plaque to the priest, an excuse for a story.

During the war years, Dudley related, Father Maloney was not only chaplain, but football coach at the village. One year he was named "coach of the year" in some quarters.

This, Dudley explained, was because Father Maloney "was friendly with all the members of the Police Department. When an important game was coming up and he felt his team was weak, Father Maloney would call up the police and say, 'Go out and arrest me a right tackle.'"

'Too Old To Play'

"Now one day," Dudley went on, tongue in cheek, "Father had a particularly important game coming up so he called up six policemen and said, 'Pick me up a fullback.'"

"It so happened that the one they picked up was David Earl Maloney (one of Father Maloney's brothers, president of Maloney-Davidson Company).

"The coach of the opposing team raised a hulabaloo about David Earl. 'He's too old to play for the Green Bay Packers,' the coach said."

Dudley quoted Father Maloney as replying that "this child will not play."

"And David Earl did not play that day," Dudley said. "He refereed."

The 11 sons and daughters of David J. Maloney contributed $20,000 toward a home for boys and Father Maloney was given permission to conduct a fund campaign that raised $75,000 more.

The building at Bardstown Road and Watterson Expressway was erected in 1950 and Father Maloney has been director of Boys Haven since.

"Father Maloney is Boys Haven and Boys Haven is Father Maloney," Dudley said.

Mayor Hoblitzell dropped in at the luncheon long enough to congratulate the priest and say of him, "There is no greater humanitarian in the city."

In accepting the award, Father Maloney commented that "It's a good thing I had several days' notice of this or I wouldn't have recognized this guy you were talking about."

seriously flooded. Some six square blocks on the northeast side were reportedly under five feet of water. Dozens of families were evacuated and hundreds of basements flooded. Many farms in Jasper county, which was subsequently declared a disaster area, were washed out. The College farm lost 60 of its 400 acres of corn.

History Profs Study in East

Two St. Joseph College history professors, Sr. M. Anthonita and Fr. Donald Shea, are doing post-doctoral work at eastern universities this summer.

Sister Anthonita, who received her M.A. and Ph.D. at Catholic University, is attending the Graduate school of Georgetown University, Washington D.C., where she is taking advanced courses in the areas of international relations and comparative governments.

Father Shea, who earned his M.A. at the University of Michigan and his Ph.D. at Loyola University, is attending the Graduate school at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass. He is taking specialized courses in contemporary Russian history and later Medieval studies and is attending a seminar on historical method.

Commissioned . . .

JAMES S. MCGUIRE, '57, of Fort Wayne, Ind., was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps June 7. Lt. McGuire is presently undergoing the 32-week Marine Officers Basic course at Quantico, Va., with the purpose of becoming a qualified infantry platoon leader. Before being commissioned he completed the 10-week Officer Candidate course, also at Quantico.

Fr. Eilerman Named

Fr. William Eilerman, instructor in accounting, has succeeded Fr. Paul White as business manager of the College. The appointment was effective June 9 and will extend for three years. Father White, instructor in economics, will concentrate on teaching.

Fr. Paul Wellman, superintendent of buildings and grounds, has been appointed purchasing agent for the College, a post also formerly occupied by Father White.

him was mostly a case of luckily "being in the right spot at the right time."

Looking back over his days at Ormsby, Father Maloney recalled: "In the beginning I used to have a fine theory that if I could make a boy a fine athlete, he would be a well-balanced boy. Then, when I used to visit the jail and see all my fine athletes there, caught up with, I decided that it fits better to start with a well-balanced boy and make a fine athlete of him."

Boys Haven is now a home for 40 boys from 14 to 20. They are members of all faiths—"our first boy was a Mormon," Father Maloney said. They live at the home, but attend churches and schools of their choice. The priest said there have been times when the boys of the home attended nine different schools.

THESE PICTURES GIVE SOME IDEA of the damage done to the St. Joseph campus by the two tornadoes which struck the college the evening of June 8. The top photos show the water tower with its dome torn off, and the roof of the Sisters' convent through which the structure fell (it stopped at the attic floor). The middle picture is the football stands with the press box on the ground at the right. At lower left is the scene in front of the Infirmary several days after the twisters had uprooted three 70-foot trees and workmen had begun cutting up and hauling away some of the debris. At right is the base of one of the trees which tore up the sidewalk as it fell.

Summer Events to Attract 3,000 Visitors to SJC; 202 Attend Classes

The largest number of students ever to attend a St. Joseph College summer session began classes June 24 with 202, including 147 Sisters, enrolled. In addition, some 21 students are attending an eight-week geology field course in Silver City, N.M.

Summer classes will run until Aug. 1, the day of Commencement Exercises for degree students and students who have fulfilled the requirements for a Certificate in Theology. Under the theology program, begun in 1952 and designed especially for Sisters, the student may receive a Certificate in Theology after attending four summer sessions, or an A.B. in Theology by fulfilling the catalogue requirements for the Bachelor's degree.

The 147 Sisters include 47 Sisters of charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary, 25 Sisters of the Society of the Precious Blood, 16 Dominicans, 13 School Sisters of Notre Dame, and 12 Sisters of St. Joseph. Six other orders are also represented.

In addition to the 202 students, more than 2600 other persons will have visited the campus by the end of the summer for 14 different activities. Four retreats were held at St. Joseph's in June for the priests of the Lafayette Diocese, Alcoholics Anonymous, the Fathers of the Society of the Precious Blood, and the priests of the Gary Diocese; two picnics for the altar boys of the Lafayette Diocese and one for the C.Y.O. have attracted more than 1,000 youths; parents day for the Precious Blood seminarians brought 250 guests to the campus; and two study weeks for the junior clergy of the Society have been held.

Also on the calendar is a study week July 7-11 for the Fathers of the Society of the Precious Blood; the annual invasion of the Chicago Bears' professional football team, who will conduct their preseason practice at St. Joseph's from July 21 to Sept. 11; the Young Christian Workers convention Aug. 9-15, expected to attract 325 visitors; and the Young Christian Students convention Aug. 17-22, also expected to draw some 325 guests.

Summer school is under the direction of Fr. George Lubeley, assistant professor of religion at St. Joseph's, and the summer events program is directed by Fr. Richard Baird, admissions counsellor.

Associated Press Features College

A feature article on St. Joseph's faculty community and new faculty salary scale, written by an Associated Press staff member, was distributed on the Associated Press national wire from New York for release in Sunday papers, May 25.

Bill Conway, the writer of the article who has been with the A.P.'s Chicago bureau for 20 years, made a one-day visit to the campus to get his story. Fr. James Hinton, College photographer, took two pictures which were subsequently distributed with the article. Mr. Conway told college officials that the 400 Sunday papers which have A.P. service have the option, of course, of using the story, and that anything between 15 and 50 percent usage was considered satisfactory.

The Associated Press headquarters in New York customarily examines some 60 of its 400 Sunday clients. Eighteen of these 60, or 30 percent of the papers surveyed, printed the St. Joseph article. Among the cities whose papers were reported to have used the story were Chicago, Indianapolis, South Bend, Fort Wayne, Terre Haute, Davenport, Ia., Fargo, N.D., Oklahoma City, Miami, Fla., Battle Creek and Lansing, Mich., Rocky Mount, N.C., Kankakee, Ill., Norfolk, Va., and Cincinnati, Ohio. Many of these papers also have published either one or both of the pictures.

Some papers have reportedly printed the article in Sunday editions after May 25. It would be greatly appreciated if the alumni, whenever they come upon the story, would send the tearsheet to the St. Joseph College News bureau. The only way the College can learn that such an article was

ATHLETIC SCHOLARSHIPS

The following notice regarding recommendations on athletic grants was addressed to the Faculty Athletic Committee, and subsequently made public, by Fr. Raphael H. Gross, St. Joseph president, on May 29:

At a meeting held on Thursday, May 29, 1958, the Administrative Council passed the following motion.

"That the distribution of the $50,000.00 total approved by the Board of Control be made as recommended by the Faculty Athletic Committee, with the understanding, however, that the over-commitment of scholarships to the present varsity and the 1957-1958 freshman football squad members be honored."

According to this recommendation, which is hereby approved, the $50,000.00 will allow at present costs (of the 1958-1959 school year) for 39 full scholarships counted as $1280.00 per year. These 39 scholarships, apportioned according to the relative number of players in each sport, are to be assigned as follows:

	Football	Basketball	Total	Extra
Two teams	22	10	32	7
Extra scholarships	5	2	7
Totals	27	12	39

*Cash value, pres. cost $34,600 $15,400 $50,000.00

(*To football are to be added several special gifts, established annually before the sum of $50,000.00 was set, amounting to about $3,000.00; therefore, the football amount is actually about $38,000.00).

To keep the cost of each full scholarship at $1280.00 the Council approved the recommendation of the Faculty Athletic Committee that players be assigned to lower cost rooms and that the Student Council fee of $10.00 not be charged against the scholarships. If a scholarship holder wishes top housing, he is free to pay the difference on his own.

The decision of the Council does not affect present holders of football or basketball scholarships. But no additional scholarships may be granted, or commitments made or partial scholarships increased, until the total of presently assigned full and/or partial scholarships of any kind (whether called athletic grants or work-grants) is brought within the approved limit. We wish also to restate the regulation of the Statement of Administrative Policy that no scholarship or grant-in-aid, full or partial, is valid until approved by the Scholarship and Grant-in-Aid Committee.

The Faculty Athletic Committee is to be recommended for fulfilling its serious obligation of keeping within the limit of funds approved by the Board of Control and for equitably distributing these funds.

Raphael H. Gross (Signed)

(V. Rev.) Raphael H. Gross, C.P.P.S.
President

GREG JANCICH, '58

Cincinnati Signs Jancich, Sends Him To Nashville; Two Make All-Conference

Greg Jancich, fast-balling righthander from Whiting, Ind., left for Nashville in the Class AA Southern Association June 16 after signing a small bonus contract with the Cincinnati Reds. He graduated from St. Joseph's June 8.

An injury to his right wrist, where he was hit by a pitched ball against Butler, forced Jancich to the sidelines for the last two weeks of St. Joseph's schedule, but he apparently showed no ill effects when he tried out in front of Cincinnati manager Birdie Tebbets at Wrigley Field in Chicago the day before he left for Nashville.

Jancich and first baseman Jack Finnegan, sophomore from Louisville, Ky., were unanimous choices on the All-Indiana Col-

In 172 innings at St. Joseph's, Jancich allowed only 28 earned runs, 110 hits, struck out 190, mostly with his fast ball, and walked 77. He had a four-year ERA of 1.47 and a record of 12-7. Four of those seven losses, however, came in 1957 when the Pumas had a woefully weak club which finished with a 3-10 mark. Jancich pitched all three wins and allowed only eight earned runs in seven complete games. The opposition scored 13 unearned runs against him which cost him the four defeats.

'Could Make Majors'

According to Bob Shemky, who has coached the 6-4, 205-pound hurler the past two seasons, Jancich could "go all the way."

"Greg is one of the finest pitchers ever to come out of St. Joseph's. He has all the equipment to be successful; he's big and has a strong arm and throws a good fast ball, curve, slider and change-up," says Shemky. "And with regular work now, he should have more of a chance to improve than he did in college ball, where the season is short and your turn comes up irregularly."

"Greg also has a good attitude and loves the game. And he's got a good head." The coach's last statement was confirmed when the Dean's List came out and showed Jancich, a history major, with a straight A average for his last semester.

Jancich won eight letters at St. Joseph's, including four in basketball. At Whiting high school he also won eight, only four of them were in football. Says his old coach (now principal), Ray Gallivan: "Greg was one of the top all around performers we have had at Whiting. His chances of reaching the majors are good because he is just reaching maturity."

Joins Strong Staff

During the summer months, Jancich has pitched in the Calumet Industrial League where he has shown professional promise.

He has joined a strong-armed crew at Nashville. Although the Vols were in sixth place at the time he joined them, the Redlegs management has gone on record as saying they have one of the hardest throwing staffs in the minor leagues. Among the leaders are Jim O'Toole, 9-3 with 77 strikeouts, and Northwestern's bonus rookie, Jay Hook, 6-3.

legiate conference baseball squad this spring. It was the third consecutive year for Jancich. Three other St. Joseph athletes—outfielders Tom Deem and Bob Hamman and catcher Carl Kozlevcar—received Honorable Mention on the All-Conference squad. All hit over .300, with Finnegan at .306 and second in the ICC in runs-batted-in with 12 in 10 games. Kozlevcar, St. Joseph's top hitter, finished third in batting in the conference with .429.

Records Best ERA

Jancich once again finished as one of the league's top pitchers with a 0.34 earned-run-average and a 3-0 record, all in the conference. Rain and his injury forced him out of three other contests. The 22-year-old hurler showed steady improvement through his four-year career at St. Joseph's. As a freshman in 1955, when he was the ace of a St. Joseph team which finished with a 12-4 mark, he compiled a 2.07 ERA. The next year it dropped to 1.70; in 1957 it was 1.26; and this past season he allowed only one earned run in 26 innings for his 0.34, the best in the conference.
